LLOYDS BANKING GROUP – HYBRID CAPITAL SECURITIES

Update on negotiations with the European Commission regarding hybrid capital securities (including preference shares) issued by Lloyds Banking Group plc (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (together, the “Group”)

Introduction

Over the past few months, HM Treasury and the Group have been involved in detailed negotiations with the European Commission regarding the terms of a restructuring plan which is required in the context of a review resulting from the state aid which has been received by the Group. The Group, together with HM Treasury, has now finalised negotiations with the European Commission around the terms of the restructuring plan and the Group expects to receive a formal decision from the European Commission on the state aid position and the restructuring plan by the end of 2009. These negotiations have included discussions around the restrictions to be required in relation to the payment of coupons and dividends on hybrid capital securities (including preference shares) and on the exercise of any optional issuer call rights (“capital calls”) applicable to such hybrid capital securities.

Dividend and Coupon Restrictions and Capital Calls

These negotiations have made clear that the European Commission intends to require a commitment that members of the Group will not make a discretionary payment of coupons or dividends on hybrid capital securities issued by members of the Group (other than members of the Company’s insurance group). The Company believes that holders of the Relevant Subject Securities (as set out below) will be adversely affected by the Group’s inability to make such payments. The “Relevant Subject Securities” are those securities on which the Group currently has – or will within a contractually defined period have – no obligation (by reason of the terms of either those or other securities) to make payments of coupons or dividends. The Company believes that the relevant scheduled coupon or dividend payment dates that will be subject to the commitment not to pay dividends or coupons will be those falling within the two-year period commencing 31 January 2010 (the “Affected Period”), as more fully described below.

Further, the Company, together with HM Treasury, has now finalised its negotiations with the European Commission on the treatment of capital calls. The Company believes that those hybrid capital securities issued by members of the Group (other than members of the Company’s insurance group) which contain capital calls falling within the Affected Period will also be affected by the commitment expected to be required by the European Commission and therefore that the Group will not be able to exercise call options on any hybrid capital securities issued by members of the Group (other than members of the Company’s insurance group) on their respective optional redemption dates during the Affected Period. The list of Relevant Subject Securities set out below reflects expected non-payments of coupons and dividends but does not contain all hybrid capital securities (for example, Lower Tier 2 notes) that may be subject to the restriction on making capital calls in the Affected Period.

The Company expects to receive a formal decision from the European Commission on the state aid position and the restructuring plan by the end of 2009. Since the ultimate decision regarding the commitments in relation to discretionary coupons and dividend payments and capital calls will be taken by the College of Commissioners, the Company is unable to give any assurances as to the outcome of the discussions referred to above.

Relevant Subject Securities

The Relevant Subject Securities referred to above are those set out in the table below. The holders of securities not listed below should note that payments of coupons and dividends will only be made subject to the terms of those securities and of other relevant parity or senior securities of the Group. Statutory and contractual restrictions on the payment of coupons and dividends may also apply to those securities. For example, certain securities contain restrictions relating to (i) the sufficiency of the relevant issuer's distributable reserves (or adjusted distributable reserves) or those of a guarantor or (ii) a breach of the Financial Services Authority's capital adequacy requirements at the time of, or as a result of the payment of, such coupons or dividends. Holders are advised to review the terms and conditions of such securities.

The Relevant Subject Securities are set out below:

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This announcement contains forward looking statements with respect to the business, strategy and plans of the Lloyds Banking Group, its current goals and expectations relating to its future financial condition and performance. By their nature, forward looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will occur in the future. The Group’s actual future results may differ materially from the results expressed or implied in these forward looking statements as a result of a variety of factors, including UK domestic and global economic and business conditions, the ability to derive cost savings and other benefits as well as to mitigate exposures from the acquisition and integration of HBOS, risks concerning borrower quality, market related trends and developments, changing demographic trends, changes in customer preferences, changes to regulation, the policies and actions of governmental and regulatory authorities in the UK or jurisdictions outside the UK, including other European countries and the US, exposure to regulatory scrutiny, legal proceedings or complaints, competition and other factors. Please refer to the latest Annual Report on Form 20-F filed with the US Securities and Exchange Commission for a discussion of such factors. The forward looking statements contained in this announcement are made as at the date of this announcement, and the Group undertakes no obligation to update any of its forward looking statements.
