Definition of social grade (National Readership Survey, 2015)

The social grade measures shown within the Basic Digital Skills report use a classification system created by the National Readership Survey (NRS). The system is based on occupation and the classifications are shown here.

The NRS interview includes detailed questions about the occupation of the Chief Income Earner (CIE) to establish social grade.

Questions include not just what the CIE's job is, but details such as their qualifications and the number of people they are responsible for.

The household is classified according to the CIE's occupation, but social grade data are also available for the respondent themselves (if they are not the CIE).
