

Lloyds Banking Group plc

Group Remuneration Committee

1. Purpose

The purpose of the Group Remuneration Committee is to:

- 1 oversee the design of, and recommend to the Board, a remuneration policy for the Directors of the Company (the Directors' Remuneration Policy) and an overall remuneration policy and philosophy for the Company (the Group Remuneration Policy), both of which are aligned with its long-term business strategy, its business objectives and its risk appetite and the values and the long-term interests of the Group and its relevant stakeholders; and
- 2 oversee the implementation of the Directors' Remuneration Policy and the Group Remuneration Policy, and to review performance and approve remuneration arrangements as set out in these terms of reference.

2. Aligned Board Model

The Remuneration Committees of Lloyds Banking Group plc, Lloyds Bank plc, Bank of Scotland plc (and, to the extent relevant, HBOS plc) operate an aligned board model. This includes aligned meetings for the remuneration committees of each entity, where meeting agendas clearly identify which items concern which entity. The Remuneration Committees have been established as follows:

- the Committee has been established by the Board to comply with Provision 32 of the UK Corporate Governance Code in respect of Lloyds Banking Group plc;
- as regulated banks, each of Lloyds Bank plc and Bank of Scotland plc is required to establish a separate remuneration committee under SYSC 19D.3.12 of the FCA Handbook and Rule 7.4 of the Remuneration Part of the PRA Rulebook and, as Ring-Fenced Banks, in accordance with Rule 8.1 of the Remuneration Part of the Ring-fenced Bodies Part of the PRA Rulebook and the Direction given by the PRA under section 138A of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, which is effective from 1 January 2021. See Bank Remuneration Committee Terms of Reference for further detail;
- HBOS plc will have a Remuneration Committee only insofar as considered necessary for legal or regulatory purposes; and
- the Committee is concerned with the business of the whole Group and accordingly its authority extends to all relevant matters relating to the Company and its direct and indirect subsidiaries, save in respect of any RFB Conflict Matters and/or to the extent that matters fall within the remit of the terms of reference of any remuneration committees of such direct and indirect subsidiaries, as the case may be, in which case such matters shall be dealt with by such committee within the parameters set by the Committee.

6. Responsibilities

The responsibilities of the Committee will be to:

A. Set the remuneration policies

- 1 Set and recommend to the Board for approval the Directors' Remuneration Policy and the Group Remuneration Policy, taking into account the Group's long-term business strategy, the Group Values, the Group Culture framework, all regulatory requirements, the long-term interests of shareholders, investors and other stakeholders and the need to engage with colleagues in developing such policies, as well as the need to promote effective risk management. Alignment between the two policies must also be considered.
- 2 Recommend the Group Remuneration Policy to each Bank Remuneration Committee for approval and consider any representations made by each Bank Remuneration Committee regarding the application of the Group Remuneration Policy to each of the Banks.
- 3 Ensure the Group's policies, practices and procedures and all remuneration arrangements comply with all relevant regulation, legislation, codes of conduct and good remuneration practice (including the Remuneration Part of the PRA Rulebook, FCA Handbook SYSC 19D and the UK Corporate Governance Code) and have regard to the remuneration trends for all colleagues. When determining Remuneration Policy and procedures, the Committee should consider the principles of clarity, simplicity, risk, predictability, proportionality and alignment to culture.

B. Monitor the remuneration policies

- 1 Review annually the report from the Group People & Productivity Director on the operation of the Group Remuneration Policy and its effectiveness and engage with colleagues to ensure they receive adequate information to understand the requirements of the Group Remuneration Policy and how it aligns with the Directors' Remuneration Policy, the performance assessment process and any regulatory requirements which apply to them.

Recommend any changes to the relevant Bank Remuneration Committee for approval and consider any representations from each Bank Remuneration Committee in this regard.
- 5 Liaise as needed with the Board Risk Committee and Risk Division to evaluate the incentives created by the Group's remuneration system (including risk-adjusted performance measures and the Group's malus and clawback policies) to confirm that they are in line with sound and effective risk management and to assess the risks arising from the Group's remuneration policies for the purposes of the Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process. As part of this, the Committee should ensure that it receives a report from the Chief Risk Officer on the implications of the Directors' Remuneration Policy and the Group Remuneration Policy for risk and risk management at least annually.

- 6 Ensure that potential conflicts of interest are managed and that no Director or senior executive is involved in any decisions as to their own remuneration.
- 7 Ensure that the application of remuneration policies incentivises appropriate behaviours in each Bank.
- 8 Monitor the Group's employee share schemes in operation from time to time, consider any representations made by each Bank Remuneration Committee and/or make recommendations to the relevant Bank Remuneration Committee in respect of such schemes, administer such schemes and monitor the application of the authority delegated to the Group Reward Director and/or the use of the Power of Attorney granted to the Group People & Property Director in respect of the administration of such schemes, approve any non-material amendments to such schemes proposed by the Group Reward Director and/or the Group People & Property Director in the case of participation by the Executive Directors in such schemes and recommend any new schemes or material amendments to existing schemes to the Board for approval.
