

Equator Principles: transactions screened by Lloyds Banking Group

Transactions approved

Lloyds Banking Group is a signatory to the Equator Principles III, which is a risk management framework for determining, assessing and managing environmental and social risk in Project Finance transactions, such as large scale energy, industrial, or infrastructure projects. It ensures that where we provide finance or advice for such deals, it is executed in a responsible manner, and reflects the importance of environmental impacts, ecology, climate change, local communities, and ethical and moral factors. Where any such impacts are unavoidable, they must be appropriately mitigated or offset.

We have a robust approach to the review and reporting of Equator Principle transactions, due to our internal referral and risk assessment process, with detailed Environmental Due Diligence and Technical Advisor reports being a key requirement in our analysis of Project Finance transactions, and engagement with environmental consultants, enabling us to make responsible business risk decisions.

PROJECT-RELATED CORPORATE LOANS AND BRIDGE LOAN

There were no project-related corporate loans or bridge loans completed in 2017.

<sup>1</sup> Category A: Projects with potentially significant adverse social or environmental impacts that are diverse, irreversible or unprecedented.
 Category B: Projects with potentially limited adverse social and environmental impacts that are few in number, generally site-specific, largely reversible and readily addressed through mitigation measures.
 Category C: Projects with minimal or no social or environmental impacts.
 In 2017, we declined no transaction on environmental or social grounds, nor approved any with exceptions. This is due to early identification of issues by relationship managers.
