LLOYDS BANKING GROUP ANNOUNCES MANAGEMENT CHANGE

The Board of Lloyds Banking Group ('the Group') announces today that Tim Tookey has decided to leave the Group to pursue an opportunity outside the banking sector. Mr Tookey joined the Group in April 2006 as Deputy Group Finance Director and was appointed as Group Finance Director and as a member of the Board in October 2008. He will continue with his present responsibilities and remain on the Board until the end of February 2012. A search process to appoint his successor will now be commenced.

Sir Win Bischoff, Chairman of the Group said: "I greatly appreciate Tim's significant contribution, both as the Group's Finance Director and as a member of our Board, and the Board and I wish him every success in the future."

António Horta-Osório, Group Chief Executive said: "We would all like to thank Tim for the valuable insight and experience he brought to the Group during an important period in the Group's development. Tim will continue to play an important role through to the end of February and I wish him all the best for his future after Lloyds Banking Group."

Tim Tookey, Group Finance Director said: "It's been an exciting and rewarding time for me at the Group and I have made many good friends among my colleagues. This has been an important period for the Group and I am pleased to have played a part in defining the next stage of the strategy which I fully endorse as the right one to realise the Group's potential. With its implementation now underway, this felt like the right time to consider a different challenge."
